Cultural notes

- About fjellkaffe (Mountain coffee): It's a type of coffee traditionally served on hiking trips in the mountains surrounding Bergen. It's often made by brewing coffee grounds in a pot over an open flame.
- Bergen's coffee scene: Bergen is home to several local coffee roasters (kaffebrenneri), and many cafes serve coffee made from these freshly roasted beans.

Local Bergen coffee spots:

- Fisketorget: A historic fish market with a cafe serving coffee and seafood.
- Floya: A cafe located near the Fløyen mountain, serving coffee and pastries with a view.
- Bergen Kaffebrenneri: Another local roastery with a cafe serving a variety of coffee drinks.

Local Oslo coffee spots:

- Java Espresso: A cozy coffee shop with a focus on specialty coffee and a relaxed atmosphere.
- Bølgen & Moi: A popular cafe serving coffee, pastries, and light meals in a cozy setting.

Local Tromsø coffee spots:

- Smørtorget: A cozy cafe with unique interior, offering delicious baked goods like cardamom buns and skolebrød, along with a small lunch menu.
- Kaffebønna: Specialty coffee shop with multiple locations, serving various types of coffee and offering coffee accessories and freshly roasted beans.
- Risø: Cafe with two locations, offering specialty coffee, delicious baked goods, and seasonal salads.
