MIKEY AND DONNIE VISIT THE RAINFOREST

This winter was a cold one. Mikey and Donnie, being from New York, enjoyed every minute of it.

But...

... they needed a change in scenery. So off to Puerto Rico they went.

After a long flight, Mikey and Donnie finally arrived at their AirBnb. Naturally, Mikey was very hungry, so before they could rest for the night, they had to walk to a nearby store to get some snacks.

The next day, they started their sightseeing with a trip to Old San Juan.

As predicted, Donnie insisted on something educational, so Mikey obliged.

But first Mikey had to get rid of his excess energy..

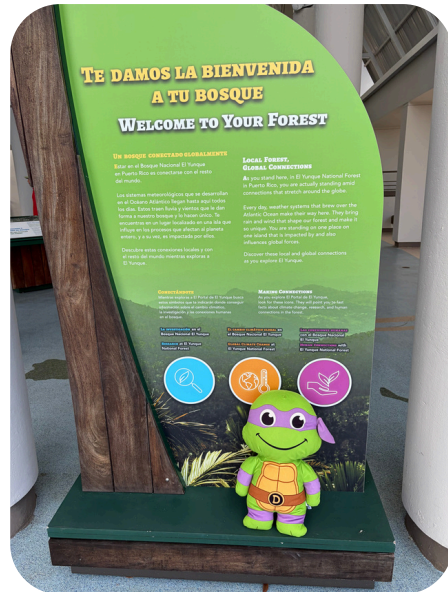

With the year-round humidity, the boys had to make sure to hydrate. But it was worth it. To Donnie's delight, they learned a lot of interesting information about the history of San Juan and Puerto Rico as a whole.

But since they're teenage boys, they had to make room for some horseplay. Which then left them very tired.

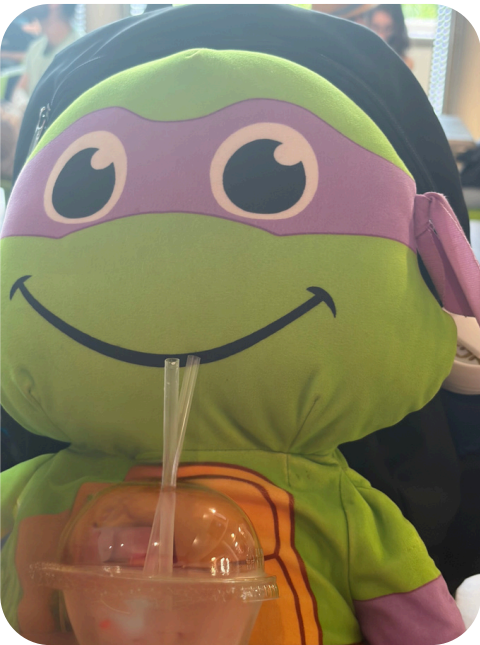

Next it was Mikey's turn to decide what to do next. Being the party dude that he is, he wasn't going to leave without a trip o the heach. Fortunately for him, the surf was great.

But Donnie came here to Puerto Rico to see the local wildlife, so that was the main focus of their trip. (Or at least for Donnie.) So off to El Yunque they went.

Donnie made sure they arrived at the educational center bright and early. But first, they needed some energy for the day, so they made a stop at the cafe.

Donnie had a latte and some empanadas.

Mikey, on the other hand, had to try the entire menu. Well, is anyone surprised?

Fun fact: Did you know that Puerto Rico is full of many varieties of endangered bird species? Neither did Donnie.

After they left the educational center, they made their way to other parts of the rainforest.

The boys were eager to go up inside the Yokahu Tower.

Donnie especially enjoy the views on the way to the top.

Someone was even kind enough to take a picture of him.

Being the active boys they are, they included a nice hike throughout parts of the rainforest.

It was a long, but fun hike.

At the top of the trail, they were rewarded with views from another tower.

After the long hike, they were tuckered out. But before, they could head back to San Juan, they need to make a stop at the restroom. Of course, they made sure to wash their hands afterwards.

The ride back was fun, too.

Before they left Puerto Rico, Mikey was determined to get one more day of partying in.

At the end of their trip, Mikey and Donnie were sad to go.

But they made the best of it. For one, Mikey took full advantage of the long layover by eating his favorite food. And Donnie made sure they made it back safely, by ensuring they both had their seatbelt on during the plane ride.

Of course, Mikey had to come home with some snacks.
No suprise there.

But he also came home with much more, such as this new friend he made during his trip.
